

COOKIE POLICY

General

This cookie policy is applicable to the use of our website. When you use our website we make use of cookies. When you use our website you agree that we use cookies in line with this cookie policy. When you do not agree with our use of cookies as set forth in this cookie policy you should disable or remove the cookies via your browser settings or you should not use our website. For more information about the possibility to disable, enable or delete cookies we refer you to the instructions in your browser's help feature. If you make use of the possibility to disable or remove cookies your user experience of our website may be affected.

In this cookie policy we provide you with information about cookies in general and about which cookies we use. In paragraph 1 we will briefly explain what cookies are. Then we will describe which cookies we use in paragraph 2. Then we will give a short explanation how you can control or delete cookies in paragraph 3. In paragraph 4 you are provided with a link that provide you with further useful information about cookies. At last in paragraph 5 the possibility to change this cookies policy is briefly described.

1. What are cookies?

The website will make use of cookies. Cookies are small files which may be stored by your browser on your user device (computer, smartphone and tablet etc.) when visiting a website. In these small files information is stored. This information can be accessed when you visit the website again.

2. Which cookies do we use?

Functional Cookies

- The functional cookies are used to make sure that the website functions properly and to optimise the user experience of the website. For example a cookie is placed for language preferences so you automatically will be forwarded to your preferred language website version.

Analytical cookies

- The analytical cookies are used to give information about the visitor flow and which parts of the website are most visited. The information of the analytical cookies is used to analyse the behaviour of the website visitors. In additions analytical cookies are used to adjust parts of the website to the individual preferences of the visitors. In particular we use Google Analytics for analysing how you use the website. For further information about Google Analytics please visit <https://www.google.com/analytics/>. In addition we use Azure Application Insights for analysing how you use the website. For further information about Azure Application Insights please visit <https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/azure/application-insights/>.

Session cookies

- The session cookies remain on your user device during your visit to the web browser. When you close the web browser the session cookies are erased. Session cookies are used to link your actions during your visit to the web browser. Session cookies are for example used to remember which page you visited during your visit to the web browser.

Security cookies

- We use security cookies on our website to verify the users of our website . In addition security cookies are used to protect user data from unauthorized parties and to prevent fraudulent use of login information. For the authentication of the users of our website we make use of token based authentication of Auth0. By using token based authentication of Auth0 our website provide a secure environment for transmitting information.

3. How can you control or delete cookies?
